

Add your comments below.
American Federation of Government Employees, AFL-CIO

I believe that under this system too much power is given to supervisors/management. I have seen that many supervisors are ill-equipped for their positions. Most (not all) of them abuse their power, are egotistical, have favorites, are too indecisive, bully, etc. Good leadership is hard to find. Most times when you have a good supervisor or management, the workers will be good employees also. What is in place to check the supervisor or management for that matter with this system? I agree that the system now in place is not without its faults, but I do believe it is better than the one proposed with NSPS. I feel it would be better to revise the one in place now. How? By keeping the pay raises as is (I can barely make it now with the cost of living steadily going up); keeping the "due process" so that bad or incompetent managers/supervisors/employees have some type of check. There are many out here. With NSPS, it seems government employees would not have much voice to negotiate. Why not fine-tune the system we have now. Perhaps more quality assurance/enforcement should be in place.

P-0046

Comments are due in Washington, DC on March 15.

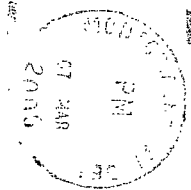

ents below.

ment Employees, AFL-CIO

B. J. Taylor
7133 Stamford Ct.
Montgomery, AL 36117

even to supervisors/management. I their positions. Most (not all) of them abuse decisive, bully, etc. Good leadership is hard or or management, the workers will be good visor or management for that matter with this without its faults, but I do believe it is better
e better to revise the one in place now. How?
t now with the cost of living steadily going petent managers/supervisors/employees have h NSPS, it seems government employees fine-tune the system we have now. Perhaps lace.

Program Executive Office
Nat'l Security Personnel Sys.
Attn: Bradley Bunn
1400 Key Blvd., Ste B-200
Arlington, VA 22209-5144

Comments are due in Washington, DC on March 15.