As a 34 year career govt. employee, my only solace is I can retire, rather than resign myself to the new NSPS system.

This system when enacted will launch an egotistical upheaval solidifying the "Good Old Boy Theory" of my way or the highway.

For a supervisor to have that much control over an employee's future is archaic and counterproductive.

There are people in charge here who are retested in battle and to be placed in a foxhole with them is simply a losing battle.

Through out history we have never left our wounded behind. We will be grossly wounded with the NSPS system.

Sincerely,

P-0108
