I believe that everything must change, but all change is not good. I believe that the proposed NSPS regulations are generally counter productive and unfair to the vast majority of employees/workers. It would eliminate the "gold" sections of the current system (i.e., base pay, classification, etc.) and would replace it with a system that is too subjective. It would eliminate the right to collective bargaining & it would put too much power in the hands of management ~~managers~~ managers who are not impartial. I also believe that there will be more reprisal for those who seek a fair solution to problems that are not backed by management and this new NSPS system.

Sincerely,

William Whitlock
